The Presentation

The View is a lecture series on little life lessons learned. It offers intelligent discussion for busy, strong women. The lecture will cover three of the thirteen little life lessons, which include: 1. Why proving yourself is overrated, 2. Your past does not dictate today 3. How having it all doesn't necessarily mean having it all at once. The evening includes meaningful dialogue and a mix of practicality with inspiration.

The Speaker

A very diverse and special speaker, Danielle Foster has a gift for helping individuals reconnect with the very things that make us whole: family, health and our space. It is a gift she acquired from her varied experience as a business leader, professor, speaker, writer, mother, and wife. And if one sentence characterizes her speeches, it is her slogan: "Be present and take in the view."

Comments from Past Presentations

"Danielle is a moving and intelligent speaker on issues that affect all women. Business and Professional Women of Tallahassee (BPW) was delighted and honored to have Danielle speak on a panel entitled "Women in Transition" discussing the evolution of women coming into their own personal and professional power and balancing family and career. If you have the opportunity to hear her speak, take it. You'll be the better for it."

-Deanna Mims, Vice President, Business and Professional Women of Tallahassee

"Danielle's presentation was professional without being stuffy. She was extremely relatable and all the women in our meeting took something home from what she shared. She is dynamic and funny, never missing an opportunity to let the audience laugh with her, but she also shared her serious side with us. Most of all, Danielle was genuine and that makes all the difference."
